CITY AND DISTRICT.

An original chorus was rendered last Sunday evening at Peck Memorial Chapel, 28th and M streets northwest, to welcome Mr H. B. F. Macfarland, superintendent of the Sunday school, on his return from a few weeks' vacation. The chorus is sung by twenty voices under the direction of Mr. Louis H. Crowe, who composed the words, Mr. J. F. Butts having composed the music. The chapel was beautifully decorated with palms and various other flowers, which, together with the music, made the services of the evening most pleasant to Mr. Macfarland.

Mr. Thomas Gibson, residing at 1922 9th street, became suddenly ill last night at 14th and U streets and was removed to his home in the police ambulance.

A young colored man named Robert Wood complained of being sick when found last night at Vermont avenue and U street. He was taken to Freedmen's Hospital by the police, but the physicians failed to find that there was anything the matter with him. Wood told the police that his home is at 724 North Washington street, Alexandria.

PRINCIPAL OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS REQUESTS INVESTIGATION.

Alleged That He Has Been Partial in Making Promotions—Business Before the Board.

At the regular weekly meeting of the board of education at the Franklin building last evening Superintendent Stuart submitted a letter he had received from Mr. W. B. Patterson, supervising principal of the sixth division, denying certain published intimations of partiality and discrimination on his (...r. Patterson's) part in the matter of the promotion and transfer of teachers in the sixth division. In his letter Mr. Patterson says: "Understanding that dissatisfaction exists among certain teachers respecting recent changes in this division, under my supervision, on the ground of alleged unfairness, I have the honor to request that the complainants be given an opportunity to present their grievances before yourself or a committee of the board, and that a like privilege be afforded me, after ascertaining identity of the complainants and their charges, to be heard in defense of the aforesaid intimations. "A full and impartial inquiry promptly held is hereby asked, in order that all the facts in the case may be considered. I believe every change to be justified by the instructions received last spring from the superintendent, and to have been based upon merit alone." The communication was referred to a committee consisting of Mrs. West and Superintendent Stuart for investigation and report. It is understood that complaint is made that Mr. Patterson pays little attention to seniority of service, and frequently promotes younger teachers over those of longer service. On his behalf it is asserted that he makes merit the sole basis for pro-

Similar complaints have been made in other divisions, notably Mr. Janney's, and it is possible that the inquiry now under way may decide the board to have a general investigation of the operation of the 'merit system" in all the school divisions.

The board accepted the resignation of Miss S. B. Kent, teacher in the night schools, and of Mr. James C. Adkins, teacher in the Business High School. The appointment was announced of Charles A. The "Edwin L. Stanton" School. To the Editor of The Evening Star:

Please inform one of your ignorant readers as to whom Edwin L. Stanton may be. I had supposed that it was the great war tiful school building at Good Hope was honored in bearing till the L. appeared. Was the schoolmaster abroad this summer or is it true that fame consists, not in "having your name put wrong in the news-papers," but in glorious golden letters where our youth are taught the steps to honor? Herringshaw's Dictionary of Biography gives Edwin McMasters Stanton as the name of one whom all time should delight to keep in remembrance.

"Who is Edwin L. Stanton?" one of the Good Hope pupils asked me last night, and I ask you, "Who is Edwin L. Stanton?" S.

The Good Hope School building is named in honor of Edwin L. Stanton, who was the second secretary of the District of Columbia under Gov. Cooke. He succeeded Secretary Chipman, and served from May 19, 1871, to September 22, 1873. This office was abolished when the territorial form of gov-erement was supplanted by the commissionership form.

The Harbor Police.

To the Editor of The Evening Star:

DISTRICT'S CLASM TO CECIL RHODES SCHOLARSHIP.

Commissioner Micarland . Receives Letter From Trustee of the Millionaire's Estate.

When the will of the late Cecil J. Rhodes was published with its provision for American scholarships at the University of Oxford, Commissioner Macfarland immediatebelief that the District of Columbia ought to be accorded two of the scholarships, even though it was not mentioned specifically in the phrase of the will, "I appropriate two of parish. the American scholarships to each of the present states and territories of the United States of North America." Secretary Hay inclined to the same belief. In consequence when the American ambassador at London, Mr. Choate, transmitted to the State Department the request of the trustees for advice as to the method of ascertaining the qualifications of the candidates from the educational officials in the various states $10.00 to Niagara Falls and Return and territories, Secretary Hay addressed a copy of the communication to the Commis sioners of the District, as well as to the governor of each state and territory. This nmunication was dated July 5, 1902. Commissioners procured as soon as possible transmitted them with their approval to the State Department, which sent the papers through Ambassador Choate to the trustees

Earl Gray, Lord Milner, Dr. Jameson and Messrs. Beit, Michel and Hawksley. Nothing further having been heard about the matter by the State Department or by the Commissioners, Commissioner Macfarland the 20th of August last addressed a letter to Mr. Bourchier F. Hawksley, who had forwarded the request for information through Ambassador Choate, on behalf of the trustees of the Rhodes will, reciting

Fire Drills Aboard Steamers.

Under the marine regulations masters of steamboats are required to exercise their crews at fire drill, but several years ago the custom fell into disuse. A few days ago, however, a notice was sent out by the United States steamboat inspection service calling attention to this omission, and the fire drills have been resumed. Calls to quarters on the steamers may be sounded at any time, and the men are required to know their stations and are ready to act promptly should it be necessary. On the steamer Harry Randall a day or two ago Captain Barker caused the fire alarm to be sounded, and within seven minutes after it was sounded the crew was fighting the imaginary fire and the boats were swinging out on their davits ready to be lowered into the water. This fire drill will be insisted upon by the steamboat authorities.
